10:00 - 12:00 am Anti-aging routine training and regenerative therapies

Dr. Jean Paul Osoreo

Muscle mass and its maintenance decade by decade is the basis of anti-aging medicine. Anaerobic exercises where strength is applied are the best technique for not decreasing the diameter of each of them in all anatomical parts of the human body. The protein balance in the daily diet is fundamental as well as the order and discipline in its consumption.

This course is interactive, bring sports/comfortable clothes

Friday, September 19th

8:00 - 9:00 am The anesthetic blocks and emergencies in Aesthetic Medicine

Dr. José Ramón Saucillo

Practical and updated approach
Patient safety as a priority
Advanced anesthetic techniques
Real clinical cases and emergency simulation
Aimed at aesthetic physicians seeking to differentiate themselves

9:00 - 10:00am Cadaver-Lab: upper, middle, lower third, nose

Dr. Maurizio Cavallini

Learning with real dissection: Direct visualization of tissues and anatomical structures
Accurate simulation: Allows to observe how the products interact under the skin
Use of recorded videos: Dissected specifically for detailed study. Complete exploration of the face: Upper, middle, lower third and nose

2:00 - 3:00 pm For lunch (lunch-pack) | Ultrasound applied to aesthetic medicine procedures

Dr. Celeste Guzzo

Real-time visualization: Allows identification of anatomical structures before and during treatment
Increased safety: Reduces the risk of complications such as intravascular injections
Precise guidance: Facilitates accurate placement of threads, filler and botulinum toxin
Detection of complications: Helps identify granulomas, nodules or product migration
